LOCAL DEVELOPER PEARL HOSPITALITY has been renovating the tower portion of the old Medical Towers Building in the Medical Center. On Wednesday, the developer announced it'll also overhaul the street level of the structure and bring in a host of fast-casual eateries.

Some of those spots are well known to Houstonians: MOD Pizza, Antone's, Poke in the Bowl, and SusieCakes are slated to open early in 2020. They'll join the already-open Halal Guys on the block. JuiceLand will also open a location here, and that's scheduled for mid-2020.

One spot is new to us: Roti Modern Mediterranean, which serves health-forward dishes like pitas, rice plates, and flatbread pizzas—and has locations in Washington, D.C., Illinois, Maryland, Minnesota, and New York—will open its doors this fall.

“We are excited that the first Roti Modern Mediterranean in Houston will be part of the redeveloped Medical Towers project in the Texas Medical Center. It's the ideal location for Roti's bold flavors, wholesome ingredients and healthy Mediterranean cuisine,” said Carl Segal, CEO of Roti Modern Mediterranean. “With the creative adaptive re-use of a historic building and addition of the Westin Houston Medical Center, the project serves as a unique destination for those who live and work in the area as well as the millions who visit the area each year.”
